

State of current EU trade and investment agreement negotiations

Table 1: Currently negotiated trade and investment agreements. Three of these agreements deal only with investments (China, Japan, Myanmar). Some of the negotiations have been paused for years (e.g. with the Philippines). Other negotiations are being conducted regularly (e.g. Indonesia). Apart from negotiating investment-only agreements (IIAs) and the comprehensive free trade agreements (FTAs), the EU is also pursuing an upgrade and extension of their Economic Partnership Agreements (EPAs) and Partnership and Cooperation Agreements (PCAs). They include in addition to trade chapters also international commitments in other areas (e.g. the promotion of democracy, cultural exchange, technology and science).

Table 2: Trade agreement in the scoping stage.

Table 3: Negotiations are currently on hold, usually for political reasons.

Table 4: Trade agreements have recently been ratified or are being provisionally applied.
