

Annex 4: Lack of Transparency of CETA Committee decision making

A. Lack of Transparency of CETA Committee decision making

This is the information we have received on CETA:

1. Public information

Information concerning the work of the committees can be found on the following website:
<http://trade.ec.europa.eu/doclib/press/index.cfm?id=1811>

When searching a document, we are now led to a database which has a login section or a 'guest visitor' with limited access.

The following complaint is based on what information is and is not available/accessible to the guest visitor.

a. What can be found on the website?

- Agendas of the meetings of the committees
- "Reports" of the meetings of the committees – these reports are short summaries of the outcomes of the meetings and do not reflect details of the negotiation process
- Work plans
- Recommendations
- Minutes (there is only one document online containing actual minutes of the meeting of the SPS committee 2018: Joint report on the EU-Canada SPS Committee \(europa.eu\). It is called "Joint report". The corresponding report in this case is called "short joint report").
- Decisions
- Consultations - Call for Proposals and Results

b. What cannot be found on the website?

- Detailed minutes of the meetings (exceptions are mentioned above)
- Lists of participants of the meetings. Note that in the letter from the European Commission dated 02/08/2021 the European Commission claims that the reports include lists of participants in the relevant meetings. In a few cases the list of organisations present is given, e.g. the report of the meeting of the Agriculture Committee in September 2018 - CETA Agriculture Committee report \(europa.eu\). Nevertheless, this is not a common practice across all meetings.
- Presentations given at the meetings, background documents distributed there.
- Information on resolutions in preparation.
- Information on preparatory meetings incl. with lobby organisations

With the publicly available documents it is not necessarily possible to know what was discussed in a meeting, what views were expressed and who was participating or invited as an external expert. Although, as the European Commission points out, the Joint reports have partly become more detailed (e.g. SPS Committee 2020, 24 pages - Report - Meeting of the Sanitary and Phytosanitary Joint Management Committee \(europa.eu\)), others have remained short and not sufficiently detailed (e.g. Agriculture Committee 2020, 6 pages - Report - 3rd meeting - Ceta Committee on Agriculture \(europa.eu\)).

2. Public Access to Documents Requests

Since the beginning of 2020, foodwatch has filed access to documents requests pursuant to Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001 regarding the meetings of various CETA committees in 2018, 2019 and 2020. They include requests for:

- all preparatory documentation—including briefing notes, emails and other internal correspondence as well as correspondence with stakeholders - regarding meetings of different committees;
- the lists of participants and minutes of the meetings of different committees (Committee on Agriculture, Committee on Geographical Indications, Committee on Sanitary and Phytosanitary Measures, Bilateral Dialogue on Biotech Market Access Issues) for different years as well as documents and presentations discussed there.

Some of the access to document requests were granted, others refused. Sometimes, the documents were redacted extensively and a confirmatory application was needed in to obtain a clearer document. For every document that we requested, we had to wait a long time and the work we put in was extensive. The process shows the lengths the interested public has to go to, in order to gain even a superficial overview of the work of the committees. In many cases we either had to make a confirmatory application, which is more time investment than an interested citizen would do, and even then we were not always successful in receiving the documents requested.

Furthermore, we have the impression that parts of the requested preparatory documentation – namely briefing notes, emails, other internal correspondence, correspondence with stakeholders –, documents that clearly must exist, were not included in the documents released. We also did not receive detailed minutes of committee meetings or documents and presentations discussed in the meetings of CETA committees.

3. Missing: detailed minutes of CETA Committee meetings

In a video meeting with DG Trade on 20 October 2020, the European Commission informed us that a decision was taken in the Joint Committee to no longer produce detailed minutes. However, the European Commission was unable to provide documentation of that decision.

The taking of minutes of meetings is provided for under rule 9 of the CETA Joint Committee's decision on its own rules of procedure (Decision 1/2018 - https://trade.ec.europa.eu/doclib/docs/2019/february/tradoc_157677.pdf. Abandoning this practice is thus contrary to its own rules of procedure. We have asked and looked ourselves and still cannot find any written record of the decision to stop producing minutes of the meetings. This shows that there is no clear practice of publishing important and far reaching decisions.

All in all, the published summary reports do not provide a satisfactory insight into the activities of the committees.
